The total number of meals shared, after having commenced at Cheongnyangni Station Square in 1988, exceeded 10 million on May 22. All this is the grace of God. I would like to thank all the family members of Dail who strode the path of sharing meals with unified hearts during the last 29 years. Moreover, I would like to convey my sincere gratitude to more than half a million volunteers who participated in the sharing of love through Babfor.

Currently, I am in the middle of a Tanzania Vision Trip in Africa with our honorary ambassador, Mr. Sang Won Park. Children in the squatter settlement of Kunduchi Quarry in Tanzania are sustaining their lives by crushing stones for 12 hours a day in order to earn less than $1, without being able to enjoy the right to the education that they deserve.

It just broke my heart to see the children hammering the stones with their tiny hands all day. Accordingly, Dail Community has been making preparations since 2014 to establish the Africa Dail Vision Center (Dail Hope Center) for the enhancement of health and hygiene as well as education for the children of Kunduchi Quarry, who are referred to as the most impoverished class of people even within Tanzania. However, due to the lack of funds, we have not been making any progress other than having purchased the land for the center.

I sincerely pray that we will be able to complete the construction of the Vision Center, a long-cherished project in Tanzania, this year. Moreover, I hope that the children of Tanzania, with the broad African continent in their hearts, will be able to grow into greater youth who dream of a better future through the Vision Center. Please pray with us! Thank you! Shalom!

Sincerely,
Little Brother Ildo Choi

Special Concert on top of truck with wings on May 8

Concert held for seniors on parents' day along with Symphony Song of Dail Community

Babfor Sharing Movement of Dail Community held a special concert on Parents' Day on May 8. It was a concert prepared by 'Symphony Song', a 21st-century type representative orchestra from Korea that plays a leading role in establishment of new culture as it is composed of young and passionate members, and performed for the culturally alienated classes of our society, including seniors with no one to rely on and homeless people.

This concert began at 10:30AM through the sponsorship of Mr. Yeong Jae Han, the chairman of Noru Holdings, and continued for about 1 hour under the direction of the artistic director, Shin Ik Ham.

The Symphony Song orchestra, led by art director Mr. Sin Ik Ham, who is also a professor of conducting at the Music Conservatory at Yale University in the USA, is pursuing 「The Wing □ a Wing project」 aimed at assisting the people of culturally alienated regions unable to experience cultural benefits to enjoy amicable classical music by personally visiting such regions and performing sophisticated classical concerts on a wing-body truck.

Mr. Sin Ik Ham, the art director, commented during the concert under the name of 「The Wing □ a Wing Project」 that "the main dish today is the music, and the foods you will be having later on are the supplementary dishes" and asked the seniors at Babfor to enjoy the music together. I selected jaunty and vigorous pieces including Light Calvary Overture, Flight of Bumblebees, William Tell Overture, etc. that the seniors are familiar with and able to enjoy.

After the concert, Dail Community held a time to present postcards that were handwritten by the staff and volunteers, and put carnations on the lapels of some 700 seniors. Postcards presented to the seniors were prepared through the campaign to “Write a Letter of Gratitude” held since last April. We handed a postcard to each of the seniors with our sincerest gratitude and consolation to them. Seeing them read the postcards with their eyes fixed on each and every word with reddened eyes also moved all of us with poignancy.

We were able to serve a generous lunch to the seniors with the contributions made by companies, organizations and individuals along with the Seolleongtang provided by Hanchon Seolleongtang. Moreover, we were able to present them with a basket of foods such as rice and instant noodles as they were returning to their home, thereby making Parents’ Day a day of slight consolation for the loneliness of the seniors. We would like to convey our sincerest gratitude to all those who have put efforts in and provided assistance to the event in order for seniors to spend a cozier time, even for a short while. dail

INTERVIEW

Interview with Miss Soo Yong Kim, a sponsorship member

Interview with Miss Soo Yong Kim, a sponsorship member who has been regularly practicing sharing at Babfor every month over the last 7 years since her elementary school days

Miss Soo Yong Kim, a sponsorship member

Q. How do you do? Could you introduce yourself?

I am Soo Yong Kim and I am currently in 2nd year at Byeongjeom High School in Hwaseong City, Gyeonggi-do. I live with my parents and an older brother. With a simple and cool personality, I get along amicably with all my friends without major trouble. I am currently reading a lot of psychology literature as I have a lot of interest in criminal psychology and am actively participating in related club activities. Occasionally, I go to see theatrical plays or movies with my friends whenever I feel under a lot of stress, just like my peers.

Q. You have been continuously serving at Babfor. What prompted the start of your participation in this voluntary service?

I joined Babfor service for the first time along with the staff of my father's company when I was in the 4th grade of elementary school. I naturally started voluntary services by tagging along with my father rather than from some other particular opportunity. When I first began, I was too young to use the stove or a knife. As such, I was given tasks such as peeling ginger or cleaning vegetables. Although I thought I was not much help at the time, seniors who came to Babfor for meals frequently praised me and showed me affection as if I was their grandchild. Such praise made me more excited and more determined to participate in voluntary services. Since then, I seem to have followed my father without being told to when the time for Babfor services comes.

With her father during voluntary services in elementary school years

Q. What is the most memorable experience during your participation in Babfor services?

I cannot forget the first day of my participation in the voluntary service. I absolutely had no idea that there are so many seniors who could not have meals because they have no rice. I still remember the endless line up of seniors who came to have a meal and scenes of several hundred seniors having meals at Babfor vividly. Whenever we visited our grandfather in the countryside, he would show the rice he harvested to my father and ask “aren’t you taking rice?” My father would respond that “I still have the rice you sent me before.” However, seniors who visit Babfor do not have the rice that is always in excess at my home. As I was serving meals to the seniors on the first day, I realized that not everyone enjoys the affluence I am fortunate to have. This awakening remains the most memorable experience from the first day of voluntary service at Babfor.

Q. You have been making donations to Babfor over the last 7 years. What was the reason that enabled you to make donations for such a long time although you are at an age at which you may feel the allowance you are given may not be sufficient?

When I participate in Babfor services, I frequently meet a lot of seniors who come to Babfor for a meal alone. Some seniors would come by determinedly pulling a cart filled with waste paper in the middle of the sweltering heat of summer, and bitter and bone-chilling cold weather of winter for a meal. I am always lost for words whenever I saw them. On the other hand, my heart substantially warmed up when I saw those sharing coal briquettes or Kimchi for the winter season with the seniors. I was simply moved by such experiences rather than having some definitive reasons. My heart ached at seeing those needing help and became happy at the sight of those offering helping hands. I think I continued to practice sharing, albeit a small amount of money, because I was able to experience a great deal of joy whenever I was able to personally offer some help to those in need.

Q. It is by no means an easy thing to continuously engage in voluntary services or regularly make donations from an early age. Do you have a role model for the practicing of sharing?

My grandmother and mother are my role models. They both are similar in that they are very generous. As such, they would offer an abundance of meals and shared foods with those visiting our home and those having difficulties. Amazingly, I found that my grandmother and mother who are practicing sharing always appeared to be happier than those they were helping. Therefore, my grandmother and mother are my role models, as they showed me the joy of sharing and the experience of a greater abundance in my heart the more I share. However, I feel limited at the moment because I am a student. I would like to practice more abundant sharing than now when I become an independent adult, just like my grandmother and mother.

Q. Lastly, as a sponsor of Dail Community, could you make a comment for all those who love Dail Community?

I think that the culture for sharing and donation in Korea is substantially inadequate in comparison to the advanced countries. Accordingly, I asked my father the reason for this. He told me that although Koreans are gentle and full of compassion, the ‘sorrowful history of having to safeguard against poverty or having others take away what is ours’ due to the frequent invasion by foreign powers throughout the history of Korea may be one of several reasons for the comparatively inadequate culture for sharing and donation. This led to a poor system of education for sharing and donation, resulting in the poor establishment of a culture for sharing in Korea. However, I believe that the culture of sharing is continuously expanding recently at a very slow pace. I also think that the spirit of sharing of the general public could generate a more powerful force than the welfare system of the country. Therefore, it would be wonderful if all those who love Dail Community would continuously share a little of what they hold dear as I have been doing. I pray that everyone who loves Dail will put their efforts together until the day in which the culture of 1 donation by 1 person will firmly settle in Korea. dail

Interview with Mrs. Jeong Ok Kim, the president of Jeonju Gapgihoegwan

Interview with Mrs. Jeong Ok Kim, the president of Jeonju Gapgihoegwan, who personally prepared Bibimbap on a huge scale, sufficient to serve 2,000 people at the time of the event for the Miracle of Five Loaves of Bread and Two Fish in commemoration of having reached 10 million meals shared at Babfor last May 2

Q. What kind of restaurant is Jeonju Gapgihoegwan?

It is a restaurant specializing in Jeonju Bibimbap. There are 6 representative restaurants that specialize in Jeonju Bibimbap in Jeonju City and most of these have been in business for more than 50 years. My restaurant has been open for about 30 years and is a latecomer in comparison to these 6 restaurants. Nonetheless, it is leading in the sharing of Bibimbap.

Q. How did you come to assist with the preparation of large scale Bibimbap for Dail Community?

I was first contacted by Dail Community in 2014 and was asked if I could provide support for the making of a large scale Bibimbap in commemoration of reaching 7 million meals shared at Babfor. At the time, I heard a lot about Pastor Ildo Choi, the chairman of the board of directors of Dail Community, at the church I was attending. As a person who loved and wanted to have Jeonju Bibimbap to be known more widely, I always respected Pastor Ildo Choi who was sharing love through the distribution of meals. Accordingly, I was glad to readily accommodate the request of Dail Community upon hearing it. This prompted me to provide a helping hand at this event in commemoration of the 10 million meals shared.

Bibimbap sharing performance at the time of the event for the Miracle of Five Loaves of Bread and Two Fish on May 2

Q. I would think the quantity of ingredients used in preparation of 2,000 servings of Bibimbap was huge. What was the greatest difficulty in this arduous and challenging task?

Since it is food, it was not possible to prepare the ingredients too far in advance in order to maintain the freshness of the ingredients. Therefore, I began preparations for the food one or two days before the event. It was burdensome to complete preparations of a huge quantity of ingredients within a relatively short period of time when I do not have that many staff at the restaurant. In particular, although I have the experience of having prepared 1,000 servings of Bibimbap several times, this was the first time I attempted the preparation of 2,000 servings of Bibimbap. Looking back, all aspects of the task, including correctly measuring the ingredients necessary, cooking all the ingredients, transferring the prepared ingredients to the site of the event by getting up at 4AM with a truck, and setting the tables in time for serving were quite difficult and challenging.

Q. We are informed that you have been sharing Bibimbap in a diverse range of locations for quite some time.

Yes. I have been continuously practicing sharing of large scale Bibimbap (up to 1,000 servings) for more than 20 years. Moreover, I have been sharing Bibimbap with the local seniors in May every year. I served Jeonju Bibimbap to more than 350 local seniors on May 13 this year. I was so grateful that every one of them thoroughly enjoyed the food I served them.

Photograph of seniors enjoying Bibimbap served last May 13

Q. Is there any particular incident that prompted you to engage in sharing activities?

When I was young, my parents, who were managing a granary at the time, cooked rice and offered it to others who were hungry simply for the reason that they were hungry. They all looked very happy as they were having meals. Perhaps because I grew up by naturally seeing such scenes during my childhood, I came to think that it is only natural that I share what I have with those who are in need. I seem to have naturally learned to share in the midst of daily living.

Q. What is sharing to you?

I believe sharing is to 'give as your heart directs'. Obviously, it would not be possible to share all you have with others unconditionally when you do not have sufficient means of sustaining your own life. However, if you start to excessively value all that you have and safeguard it, you would not be able to share with others regardless of how affluent you may be. Therefore, I experienced greater joy when sharing rather than excessively clinging to what I have and I intend to act when the thought of the desire to share enters my mind. I sincerely hope that a greater number of people would become more familiar with the sharing exercised as the heart directs rather than calculated sharing, by experiencing the joy of sharing with others. DAIL

Introducing an Angel Company of Dail Community!

Gwang Sook Kim, a legal scrivener at Changdeok Judicial Scrivener

Angel Company refers to all the shops and companies of the world that practice sharing and who lead the culture of sharing by making regular donations of a prescribed amount of money for the alienated neighbors along with Dail Community.

Changdeok Judicial Scrivener is a judicial scrivener office with 17 years of history since its opening in 2000. It specializes in registration work along with other civil litigation cases. The duties of this office are the same as a lawyer's office, with the only exception of the provision of defense in legal litigations. It has the advantage of charging lower fees in comparison to a lawyer's fees for the same tasks.

Q. How did you come to know about Dail Community?

I met Mr. Yeon Soo Kim, the representative, in the early years of Dail Community during the meeting of the parents of elementary school students because the son of Pastor Il-do Choi and my son graduated from the same elementary school. Moreover, Pastor Choi lives in the same apartment building I lived in. As such, I had frequent encounters with the family members of the Pastor and got to know of the Dail Community project.

Mrs. Gwang Sook Kim, representative director of Changdeok Judicial Scrivener, holding up the Angel Company signboard

Q. What is sharing to you?

I believe sharing is practicing. The reason why I love Dail is the spirit of practicing of Dail under the motto of "From this point on! From here! Starting with little things! Beginning with things that can be done! Starting from me!" Dail simply practices what it has in mind first. This is how changes are achieved and I believe this is truly valuable. I frequently hear at the church that Christians should serve our neighbors. Perhaps you may think it is an arrogant attitude, but I think it is rare that those asserting this need actually practice what they assert in reality. If you stop at being knowledgeable, is there any meaning or value to the knowledge that you have? Therefore, I believe practicing that does not stop at being knowledgeable is the way of sharing.

Q. Have there been any changes in your life prior to and after sharing activities?

Prior to my engagement in sharing activities, I put foremost importance in my life on my family and me. Therefore, I was extremely greedy to safeguard what is mine. However, when you visit and engage in the voluntary services at the project sites of Dail in Korea and overseas, you personally meet neighbors experiencing difficulties. When you personally encounter and share with them, all your greed disappears before you know it. You will also come to know how happy your current life is. My life has become much more abundant after sharing than before I started to share. dail

Introducing an Angel Church of Dail Community!

Pastor Woo Seok Jeong of Life Fountain Church

Angel Church refers to a church that personally practices the Words of "what is done onto the lowest of people is what is done onto me (MATTHEW) 25:40)" and that expands the kingdom of God by becoming the salt and light of the earth by making a regular donation of a prescribed amount for the alienated neighbors along with Dail Community.

This interview was held with Pastor Woo Seok Jeong, who is in charge of Life Fountain Church, a healthy church with the presence of Holy Spirit, who has been continuously delivering the Words of God over the last 17 years for souls without faith there.

Q. Please tell us about Life Fountain Church

It is a healthy church always putting in the utmost effort to sincerely worship the only God. Our church holds a worship service for the subjects of evangelism in the first week of every month. It is a service focused on the church members in their initial stage of Christian life, rather than the existing members of our church. Accordingly, the contents of the sermon and its delivery method are slightly different from the traditional worship services. It is a unique consideration that Life Fountain Church is making for the church members in their initial stage of Christian life. In addition, we engage in evangelistic activities by utilizing our individual talents. I believe this is also a characteristic of Life Fountain Church that is differentiated from other churches. For example, one of our members who worked as an English teacher for the national college entrance exam in the past is naturally passing the Words of God while teaching English and math to the local children. Other members with talent in sports such as boxing or swimming are engaged in evangelistic activities by teaching boxing or swimming as a form of talent donation.

Q. What prompted Life Fountain Church to join as an angel church?

Sharing is something that all Christians need to practice. However, the majority only have the thought of sharing but have difficulty in practicing it. They tend to postpone it day by day. However, I believe one must practice sharing immediately when one considers it, rather than at a later date. Accordingly, realizing that our church members were unified with a passion for voluntary services, I immediately visited Babfor of Dail Community and began participating in Babfor services. While participating in the Babfor services, I was given the offer of joining as an angel church. After having received the proposal, I thought about how we go out to eat frequently these days. If we substitute the cost of a meal a day (8,000 Won) spent outside with a meal at home, it is possible to save approximately 200,000 Won a month. Therefore, with the small efforts of saving the cost of a meal eaten outside a day, we collected donations every month to participate in the activities of Dail Community as an angel church.

Q. What is the topic of prayers at the Life Fountain Church?

We are praying to be awakened all the time to become a church capable of evangelizing to our loved ones, a church where the pastor and the members of the church can truly believe in and pray for each other under any circumstances, and a church capable of sincerely saving each and every soul rather than stopping at seeing and experiencing certain forms. DAIL

“ Love delivered through Bbangfor, ”

I would like to demonstrate the hope that I have seen to other children

The story of Liil, an assistant administrator of Dail Community, who is preparing for Bbangfor ministry at Dail Community in Vietnam

Liil, Assistant Administrator for Bbangfor ministry in Cambodia

Q1. What are you doing currently Liil?

I bake bread and hand it out to impoverished neighbors at an overseas branch of Dail Community. It has been about 4~5 years since I started doing this work and I am currently preparing for Bbangfor ministry at Vietnam Dail Community. Dail Community is distributing meals and bread to impoverished neighbors at 17 branches in 10 countries. In the case of Vietnam, baking and sharing of bread is not being done for several reasons. Accordingly, I came to Vietnam Dail Community in Tan Hung Village in Ho Chi Minh City as the first member for the Bbangfor ministry.

Q2. It would have been a rather difficult decision to pursue a life of sharing. Did you have a particular opportunity that prompted you to pursue this way of life?

I do not have parents. I lived the life of a wanderer since I was 5 years old, and I joined the Dail Community orphanage in China when I was 11 years old. China Dail Community is situated in Mijiang in the Duman River region that is at the border between China and North Korea. Accordingly, I frequently encountered escapees from North Korea when I was young. When I was in the 6th grade of elementary school, I was baking potatoes with a younger sibling at the orphanage in the boiler room when a woman with a young child came barging into the boiler room. She was an escapee from North Korea. Without any explanation, she asked me to give her something to eat because she was so hungry. Since I had experienced and knew about severe hunger as I went without anything to eat for several days when I was very young, I brought some rice and Kimchi for her. After completely emptying the dishes, she thanked me over and over, and it was the first time I thought that ‘it would be very fulfilling if I were to lead a life of sharing things with those who truly and sincerely need them’.

Liil, an assistant administrator, during her life at China Dail Community

Q3. When did you begin to think about pursuing the ministry of Bbangfor?

When I was about to advance to high school, I came to know of Duman River Technical School where bread was being baked from 7PM to 8AM the following morning every day. I was told that approximately 1,800~2,000 loaves baked at the school are sent to North Korea every day at the time. I was fully drawn to this story. I think this story was so appealing to me because I dreamt of pursuing a life of sharing things to eat with less fortunate neighbors when I was young. I decided to enroll at Duman River Technical School with the firm conviction that it was place where I could realize my dreams and, at the school, I was able to experience the joy of delivering happiness to others with the skills I had for the first time in my life. Since then, I learned about Babfor and Bbangfor, the ministry of sharing of meals and bread, through the introduction of the director of China Dail Community, and I naturally began the life of sharing at Dail Community.

Children in Nepal eating the bread that Liil, an assistant administrator, baked

Q4. 4~5 years is quite a long period of time. You must have had numerous occasions of emotional fulfillment while sharing bread.

I first began baking and sharing bread in Siem Reap, Cambodia and the second location of ministry was Nepal. I particularly remember the experiences of baking and sharing breads in Nepal very well. I was in the Pokhara region in Nepal, which was not an area with well-developed food culture. Accordingly, the majority of the children in this region encountered bread for the first time. The first bread I baked for the children was Streusel. I still cannot forget the facial expressions of the children having the first taste of Streusel in their lives. They were amazed at the taste and really enjoyed it. Seeing how happy the children became, I felt extreme joy surging up in my heart. Although every moment of making and sharing bread has been fulfilling, those in Nepal were the most fulfilling and moving experiences in my life thus far.

Q5. What kind of life do you want to live as a staff member of Dail Community?

I was able to receive sincere and genuine care and concern for the first time in my life at the Dail Community. I encountered this after a prolonged period of life as a wanderer during my early childhood. Even when I was going astray, the attention directed towards me was always warm and cozy. In this process, I nurtured the desire to live a valuable life and began to have dreams and hope for the future. Just as Dail Community has showed me hope in life by warmly embracing me, I also would like to become a person capable of demonstrating hope for the future by delivering love to the children in need of care and concern from others through sharing of bread as a staff member of Dail Community. dail

NEPAL

Kushal Director of Nepal Dail Community

A step taken towards a wider world

The new school year begins in April in Nepal. Accordingly, all the schools hold graduation and enrollment ceremonies in April. Nepal Dail Hope School also held graduation and enrollment ceremonies. Kumari Chepang, who is the tallest and oldest student at the Hope School, graduated from the 4th year there at the age of 14 years old and will be enrolled at a regular public school.

Just as there are a lot of Sherpa clans living in the Himalayas, a lot of Jephang clans are living in the jungles. Jephang clans that lead life of severance from the outside civilized society are putting efforts in to join the outside society by leaving their lives in the jungle. However, the reality confronted by the Jephang clans is that they have difficulties in securing sufficient funds just to rent a room when they leave the jungle.

Kumari's family was considering returning to jungle life again because of the severe difficulties in sustaining life in Kathmandu. Thankfully, they were able to maintain their life in Kathmandu by paying the monthly rent due to the sponsorship of Hye Jeong Hwang who visited Nepal during a Dail Vision Trip. Kumari has been having meals at the Dail Vision Center for the last 4 years and was enrolled in the Hope School 2 years ago. At first, Kumari had to begin school life in loneliness, having to eat and spend her leisurely hours alone because of her difficulties in communicating with other students because she was the last to join the Hope School and had been living a life separate from the outside civilization. However, she is now able to study in the Nepali language and English through the dedication and love of teachers at the Hope School, and was able to quickly make friends with her peers as her linguistic ability improved rapidly every day.

Kumari has the hope of becoming a teacher one day.

Graduation ceremony for kindergarten

Graduation ceremony at the Hope School

As she has been transformed from a girl who lived in jungle with no knowledge of civilization to a capable student through the love of the teachers, she wants to share and offer love to other students by becoming a teacher. We ask for your encouragement and support for the realization of her dream.

New uniforms and school supplies for the new semester of the new school year

As the new school year started, we distributed new school uniforms and supplies to the children attending ordinary public schools. School uniforms, notebooks, pencils and pencil sharpeners were handed out to lower grade students while school uniforms, notebooks, pens, ink and math learning aids were handed out to the higher grade students.

In school in Nepal, the amount of note taking is substantial, with the school requiring a minimum of 2 notebooks for each subject. Accordingly, the number of notebooks required is close to 30 since the students are taking about 14 subjects for each grade. As many schools check whether the students have prepared a sufficient number of notebooks, many of the students not able to prepare them due to financial difficulties have a tendency of missing school during this period.

However, we are so grateful that our children do not have such concerns, which have been resolved through distribution of sufficient school supplies at the beginning of the new school year. Faces of the children were brimming with smiles as they received them. We are perpetually grateful to our sponsors who enabled our children to commence the new school year with a great deal of excitement and expectations. DAJL

Channel of Blessings

Greetings to all the sponsorship members who care for and love the Dail Community. Hot weather, with scorching sun even from the early hours of morning has begun in Georgia, as in the case of Korea where summer has also begun. I pray for good health of all the sponsorship members during the months of sweltering hot weather.

America Dail Community is always putting in effort to become the channel of blessings for the passing of the collections of sincerity and love of the sponsors in the USA wanting to assist the valuable ministries in 7 overseas branches of Dail Community (China, Nepal, Philippines, Cambodia, Tanzania, Uganda, and Vietnam) and the venues of the overseas ministries.

Radhaki Mohamedi and his mother

Currently, the total number of the 1:1 child sponsors in the general regions of America is 286 for the 5 branches, after having commenced in 2010. When we were beginning with the child sponsorship, we were concerned whether the relationship with the children could be maintained well through only the exchange of a report on the development of the children and Christmas cards once or twice a year, since the children in the venue of ministries are such a long distance from the USA. However, it proved to be a useless concern. In transcending my expectations, the child sponsors of America Dail have been offering sincere prayers and encouragements for each and every soul of the sponsorship children rather than simply sending the sponsorship contributions.

Our sponsors are sending money for presents on the birthdays of the sponsorship children without fail, and handwritten letters containing sincere concern. Mrs. Jeong Ok Park, who forged a sponsorship for a child in Tanzania after having heard the story of a boy, Radhaki Mohamedi, living with his aunt in another part of the country away from his parents due to the financial difficulties. She called us several times to hear about the ways she could have the child live with the parents. At the time, she sincerely cared for the child with the pledge to do her best to assist him to live with the parents. All the staff of America Dail Community were so moved by her words. Moreover, after having found out about the situation of Radhaki Mohamedi needing to undergo treatment for his teeth, she personally raised funds for the dental treatment of the child and delivered it to America Dail Community.

In addition, Mr. Seok Nam Yoon, a longtime friend of America Dail Community, personally visited our office with money for presents to be given to his sponsorship child. America Dail Community

Letter of gratitude from sponsorship child sent to our sponsor, Mr. Seok Sam Yoon

We convey our sincerest gratitude to each and every sponsorship member of America Dail Community and ask the sponsors wishing to convey their hearts to the sponsorship children to call the headquarters of America Dail Community. Many children are still waiting for sponsors who will deliver love to them. We pray that there will be many people who wish to embrace the soul of a child more precious than the world after having read this article. Thank you very much! We love you! We bless you! dail

LOTTERIA Hope Relay! It is a party for 365 days of the year

Babfor is having a party nowadays because of LOTTERIA, a representative Korean corporation in Vietnam. Sharing by LOTTERIA that included tasty hamburgers, milk, cups and baskets has been expanded to Binh Hung Hoa region in addition to the current venue of Babfor, thereby enabling the Vietnam Dail Community to practice abundant sharing every day.

Moreover, Vietnam Dail Community was able to share not only with those who visit Babfor but also with the neighbors in the surrounding areas by holding a "Free Festival" for the sharing of sponsored goods to those who need them for free.

We put our heart in sincerely conveying our gratitude to Vietnam LOTTERIA for enabling us to have a festival that allowed us to be unified with the neighbors.

"I am the hero of the day! Event on International Children's Day"

'On the Children's Day in the month of May, the world for us~' I remember that I looked forward to Children's Day as much as my birthday during my childhood. Children's Day was a special day in which the children became the heroes of the day, enabling them to eat what they wanted to their heart's content, receive presents and create an abundance of memories by visiting amusement parks with family members.

ARDITO Concert on Children's Day

Hamburger and beverages provided by LOTTERIA

Since Vietnam does not have a designated Children's Day, Vietnam Dail Community decided to provide a 'special day' to the children on June 1 in commemoration of the International Children's Day. Accordingly, we were able to present a special children's day to approximately 150 children with the help of many people.

Mr. In Hyeok Lee, the president of BETHEL VINA, one of our reliable sponsors, provided us with 100 school bags as he had done last year, and 'ARDITO' Concert that donates the entire profits of a concert to us every year prepared a wonderful performance for the event. Mrs. Hye Seon Ahn, who is in charge of the concert, even prepared snacks for the children. It was a wonderful and thankful day for the sponsors who tried to make the special children's day as abundant as possible

Children's day, in which even the adults could join in to spend a joyous time through unified hearts with children! We would like to convey our gratitude to Mr. In Hyeok Lee, president of BETHEL VINA, Mrs. Hye Seon Ahn and members of 'ARDITO' Concert as well as numerous sponsors who provided support to offer wonderful food to children and enabled the children to have a day truly focused on caring for the children

We were happy because we were able to offer a valuable day that can be remembered for many years to come. It was all because of the kindness of all of you. We ask for your prayers that Vietnam Dail Community will continue to be used as the channel for the conveyance of love to our neighbors. DAIL

UGANDA

Hye Kyoung Kim, Director of Uganda Dail Community

Would you become a sponsorship angel for children in Uganda?

Uganda Dail Community, after having commenced with the establishment of 1:1 child sponsorship for 9 children in November 2015, managed to increase the number of sponsored children to 150 in a year and a half as of May 2017.

We are providing the entire cost of tuition, food and daily necessities to the sponsored children, and have commenced Bbangfor ministry of sharing bread and milk with all 320 students of Kitiko government primary school and 250 students of KIGO prison primary school that began since the first week of April this year. This was made possible because of the sponsorship angels who are providing continuous support through establishment of child sponsorships. Thank you so very much.

However, there still are a lot of children who have no choice but to give up studying due to their inability to pay tuition fees. This is because the majority of the students come from poverty stricken families. My heart aches every time I see the innocent eyes of children who look at the sponsored children with a great deal of envy, and I sincerely

Toronto Central Presbyterian Church is the best!

Toronto Central Presbyterian Church (Chung Sik Yoo, pastor in charge) in Canada donated 300 new pieces of clothing (T-shirts, training jackets, innerwear for children, etc.) to Uganda Dail Community. Children who were back at school after a long while after the end of the school holiday shouted cheers of elation as they received new clothes. Thank you so very much.

We also convey our sincerest gratitude to more than 50 sponsors of Toronto Central Church, Toronto Woori Church and Toronto Dongshin Church who participated in 1:1 child sponsorship. We ask for your continued prayers for the children of Uganda. dail

We held a united event with Chunryang Municipal Office of Hunchun City on the Red Cross Day

Dail Children’s House has been holding an event in alliance with the Chunryang Municipal Office of Hunchun City in commemoration of Red Cross Day since last year. The event was held at the Dail Children’s House last year and at the Chunryang Municipal Office this year with all the members of Dail visiting the municipal office.

The event included a diverse range of programs such as emergency education, psychology consultation, making dumplings, various entertainment activities, etc. Following the completion of the psychology consultation program, we had a time to confess each other’s hearts while embracing each other. Even those who found it somewhat embarrassing exchanged sincere confessions of love and empathy to others as tears flowed from their eyes at the conclusion of the session. This touched my heart deeply.

We hope to continue to hold this heart-warming event with Chunryang Municipal office next year.

Climbing Mt. Buksan on Labor Day

It was a school holiday on the Labor Day and all the members of China Dail went to Mt. Buksan in Hunchun City for mountain climbing. Children, excited by the first field trip taken in a long time, spruced themselves up so much! One child even wore a skirt although we were going mountain climbing, making every one laugh whole-heartedly. It was a highly joyous, sweaty climb that relieved us of the difficulties and stresses experienced while living together.

CAMBODIA

Hyong Gil Kim, Director of Cambodia Dail Community

With prayers for construction of a middle and high school

There is an urgent need to construct schools for the youths in the areas of Siem Reap, Phnom Krom and Chong Kneas. Among the youths in these regions, more than 75% are driven to various sites of hard labor without the financial means to attend school, or are unable to advance to higher grades even if they are above the appropriate age because they are not able to receive supplementary lessons, or are without sufficient opportunities for education and only half-a-day of schooling. We are planning to construct and operate regular all-day school for these youths. It is anticipated that these youths will grow into members of society capable of further renewing Cambodia by demonstrating the leadership in serving others through regular middle and high school education with books in their hands in school rather than hammers in work places.

On May 8, the 4th literary composition competition organized by Cambodia Dail Community and sponsored by the Korea Writers Missionary Association was held with the participation of approximately 80 youths from Siem Reap and Chong Kneas regions. As in the competition last year, all the participants showed off their writing skills with wonderful and compassionate content.

We hope that these educational programs that we are implementing in Cambodia Dail Community at the moment will be well established at middle and high schools, and we are praying and waiting for those who will help with the construction of a middle and high school jointly with Cambodia Dail Community.

Scholarship Center for achieving dreams, towards Ggumfor

There are university students who managed to grow in good health in the outlying urban squatter village of Siem Reap through Babfor of Cambodia Dail Community. Cambodia Dail Community is planning to establish Ggumfor, which is a scholarship center in the city for the realization of the students' dream of completing university studies.

A short while ago, a tent library was opened for them in advance of the establishment of the scholarship center. Honorable Judge Jong Ho Cheon, a judge at Busan Family Court who is better known as a scolding judge, and 20 adolescents under minor probation erected this tent library. Through the efforts of the Honorable Judge Jong Ho Cheon, all the materials needed were transported from Korea and erected with sincerity in Cambodia. It made me so happy just to think about the students who will be studying hard in this tent library.

Following the construction of the library, our anticipation that the Ggumfor scholarship center could be established quickly also grew. We need approximately $75,000 to establish the scholarship center in which 50 students will pursue the realization of their dreams. We wait for your helping hands and encouragement for the dreams of these students to ensure that they will not give up because of the poverty they are confronted with. dail

Sophia's house after the construction

TANZANIA

Jong Won Park, Director of Tanzania Dail Community

Please help families living in earthen houses!

There is a major rainy season from March to May in Tanzania. In particular, there have been very heavy rainfalls during this May, putting many families living in earthen houses in a great deal of difficulty, as they are most vulnerable to rain among the houses in the squatter village in Kunduchi Quarry. Among these, the houses of Sophia, and the siblings Cecilia and Paolo who were introduced in the last newsletter suffered the greatest damages.

In the last newsletter we introduced that the last wish of the mother of Sophia who is suffering from AIDS is to purchase this dilapidated earthen house to pass down to her 5 children. Accordingly, the staff of Tanzania Dail Community purchased the earthen house and were collecting funds to newly construct a sturdy house with bricks that can withstand even the worst rainfall by ardently selling charcoal. Then, God, realizing the inadequacies of our efforts, sent us a precious sponsorship angel. We sincerely thank God and the sponsorship angel who fulfilled even the material aspects of our needs.

Immediately following the rainy season, Ibra, Abu, Sophia's older brother and I made an effort to repair the earthen house of Sophia that was on the verge of collapse, and we were able to complete the framework and wall construction of the house after 4 days of house repair. Words of praises of joy naturally flowed out of me with the thought of 'how much happier would they be if we were to reconstruct the earthen house purchased into a brick house' as I was looking at Sophia's family members brightly smiling after the house repair. Halleluiah!

Siblings Cecilia and Paolo, who are students from the 1st and 3rd session Hope Class, respectively, are being raised by their aunt after both of their parents passed away. Their aunt is living in a single-room earthen house without electricity or water supply with 5 children including her own 2, and Cecilia, Paolo and the youngest child. However, they are the “happy virus” family of the Kunduchi village as they always display untainted smiles on their faces.

Cecilia and Paolo in front of their house after the construction

But one day, Cecilia visited me with a look of concern on her face. She asked me to go to her house with her. When we arrived, I found that one side of the earthen house had been swept away by the recent heavy rainfall. Accordingly, I completed 3 days of house repair along with Ibra, Abu and Cecilia in order to save labor cost. To make the house sturdier, we applied new soil on the wall and covered it with cement. My heart ached at the sight of Cecilia and Paolo repetitively shouting “Asante! Asante!” out of gratitude for the newly repaired and improved house.

Families living in earthen houses incurred major damages due to extremely heavy rainfall during the last rainy season. Houses with holes in the walls or with walls collapsed will be directly exposed to the risk of malaria. As such, Tanzania Dail Community would like to repair them as quickly as possible. We ask that those who are moved by this article would assertively participate in our efforts to repair these houses. Dail

PHILLIPHINES

Joo Hyong Ryu, Director of Philippines Dail Community

Kamansi Dail Community, the venue of dreams for the children

We visited Kamansi Village to practice sharing and serving the poorest neighbors in Cebu without any information or guidance. After having met Pastor Edgar, who is also the head of the clan at Kamansi Village that we visited on short notice, we were able to build up sufficient trust for each other by sharing a big vision over a very short period of time. This led to the entering of a partnership between Dail Community and Datu Mapaubsanon clan within about 2 months.

Moreover, my family was appointed an honorary member of the clan and peace ambassador by the Federation of aborigine clans. I was given the clan name of “Kali Tawong Banwaon Matinabangon” meaning “Man of Assistance” and my wife the name of “Bae Masinabtanon” meaning “Woman of Understanding,” thereby obtaining the qualification to officially visit and interact with any clans from this highly closed aborigine society.

Following the establishment of Kamansi Dail Community and beginning Bbangfor with a drum oven discarded at one corner of the church, there were only about 30 children who came to have bread we baked. However, this has increased to more than 100 after about 2 months. As we distributed nutritious bread made by putting calcium and vitamin powder in the dough along with beverages filled with a lot of nutrition, the children appeared to be quite satisfied with both the taste and nutritional value of the bread and beverages. Moreover, following Bbangfor, we sincerely applied ointments to children to alleviate skin diseases that manifested from the dirty water used in their daily lives. For these reasons, the children would stay on the Kamansi Dail Church grounds all day long.

As I am looking at these children, the urgency to provide an optimal environment to educate them by establishing a venue of learning as soon as possible surges up in my heart. However, as the church is located in the squatter settlement on water, there is an extensive range of difficulties, including the need to connect electricity and potable water supply first, execute construction work in time for the normal tides of the ocean, and transporting construction materials through the passage made of a maze of wooden planks on top of water. Nonetheless, I muster my energy on the strength of the members of the clans who willingly volunteer to provide assistance.

Currently, we are planning to construct a venue for Babfor for the sharing of daily meals for the children and a library, which will become the play-ground and venue for nurturing their dreams by expanding the Kamansi Church that Pastor Edgar arduously maintained on his own. Accordingly, we sincerely need your prayers and assistance in order for the children of Kamansi to lead a more child-like life in a better environment through Kamansi Dail Community. dail

We need your help!

Oven: We need an oven to replace the drum oven of Kamansi Bbangfor. Once the oven is provided, it will be valuable in the rehabilitation education of the local residents.

Books: We need books, the food for the soul that will be consumed along with bread by children who visit us every day.

Ointments and vitamins: We sincerely need ointments and vitamins for the children suffering from skin diseases due to the dirty water used in their daily lives.

Departing for Jeongseon, Gangwon-do ~ Babfor filial duty tour

Babfor was crowded with seniors departing for the filial duty tour from 6AM on May 12. The destination was Jeongseon, Gangwon-do! At 7AM sharp, the bus, after having checked the final list of participants, departed for Jeongseon. Although there were some concerns for the health of seniors for the trip that took more than 3 hours, everyone thankfully arrived at the destination without any mishap.

The first place we visited was 'Arari Village' in Jeongseon. It is a traditional folk village of Korea with the commemorative status of aristocrats and house servants from the past erected throughout the village. Seniors were fully mesmerized by the tranquil ambience within the village. Then, they listened to a Pansori performance to welcome visitors to Jeongseon, Gangwon-do, before moving to Arirang Museum to listen to various versions of the Arirang song from throughout Korea to their heart's content. Everyone was truly enjoying the first long distance trip they were making in a long time.

Abiding by the old proverb that 'A loaf of bread is better than the song of many birds', we brought the seniors to the Jeongseon Market, the largest in Jeongseon City, to have lunch. Fortunately, the Jeongseon 5-day traditional market that is renowned as the largest traditional market in Gangwon-do was held on the day. As such, the seniors were able to enjoy pungent noodles and rice cooked with thistle that can only be tasted in Jeongseon before looking around the market overflowing with an abundance of things that cannot be found in Seoul. Seniors were smiling throughout their tour of the market, perhaps as they reminisced about childhood memories.

After having completed the tour of the market, we were headed for the last destination, the Cheonpo Gold Mine next to the Hwaam Cave. Gold was mined here from 1922 to 1945, and the seniors appeared to be quite satisfied with the tour of the cool cave in the midst of sweltering summer weather.

Group photograph for participants of filial duty tour taken in front of Arari Village

Perhaps fatigued from the schedule that started early in the morning, the seniors happily fell fast asleep in the bus on the way back. My own fatigue of having guided them all day disappeared completely at their continuous expression of gratitude as they arrived at Babfor safely before returning to their homes.

I would like to convey sincere gratitude to all the staff and executives of Group M Korea who sponsored this filial duty tour and hope that we will be able to provide the tour to the seniors again next year.

Beautiful choir resonating throughout Babfor

Professor Hye Yeon Seo from the Vocal Music Department at Music Conservatory of Seoul National University visited Babfor with 9 of her students to offer songs with beautiful melodies to the seniors with no one to rely on, and to homeless people. Professor Hye Yeon Seo is actively engaged in various social voluntary services including provision of vocal lessons to children with developmental disabilities under the theme of 'Song in praise of the dreams of the students with development disabilities' and holding a Saturday music concert for alienated neighbors at a museum.

On the day of the visit to Babfor by Professor Hye Yeon Seo, a wonderful stage was set up in the front yard of Babfor. As the piano started to play and performance started in earnest, seniors enjoyed the singing performances of the students from Music Conservatory by clapping their hands to the rhythms of the songs. We were able to offer them a joyous day, thanks to Professor Hye Yeon Seo and students who sang with their utmost efforts until the end in spite of the hot weather, accommodating all the encores that followed every song.

Professor Hye Yeon Seo even prepared snacks including Choco Pie and yogurt for the seniors! The warmth of their hearts was fully conveyed. We shall not forget their promise to visit Babfor again and we sincerely thank them. DaJL

DAIL ANGEL'S HOSPITAL DAIL LITTLE HEAVEN

Jung Soon Lim, Director of Dail Little Heaven

The last moments of life

Dail Little Heaven is a facility that admits and cares for homeless people with no one to rely on and who suffer from serious diseases that make them unable to care for themselves, as well as cancer patients waiting for the last moments of their lives. Dail Little Heaven is the only facility that admits homeless people among other similar facilities and implements a specialized funeral program for accompaniment and consoling of the seniors during their lonely last moments of life.

Scene of the funeral for Mr. Jeom Seung Ham (false name)

The photograph above is the scene of the funeral of Mr. Jeong Seung Ham (false name) who entered Dail Little Heaven last February upon the request of Yangpyeong Resting Place. Although he needed to undergo anti-cancer therapy due to pancreatic cancer that metastasized to his entire body, he refused to be treated. As the disease seriously aggravated, he eventually passed away at the Dongbu City Hospital on May 12. We finally managed to get in contact with his family who we were unable to contact before and notified them of his condition. Accordingly, his family visited Dail Little Heaven to participate in the farewell ceremony for Mr. Ham's passage to heaven and cremation. Although it was belated, we were nonetheless thankful that we were able to cherish the last day of Mr. Ham with his family.

Scenes of the funeral for Mr. Seong Il Choi (false name)

The photograph above is the scene of the funeral of Mr. Seong Il Choi (false name) who entered Dail Little Heaven last February upon the request of the Salvation Army. Mr. Choi was suffering from lung cancer with a particularly severe cough, to the extent of not being able to conduct his daily activities on his own. Moreover, as his coughing caused extensive inconvenience to other patients admitted at Daily Little Heaven, Mr. Choi was transferred to the hospice ward at the Seoul Medical Center last April. Although he bravely and ardently fought against cancer during his stay at the hospital for 2~3 months, the cancer metastasized to other organs and eventually he passed away on May 25. Although Mr. Choi refrained from getting in contact with his relatives other than his younger sister, many of his relatives visited the funeral parlor upon the news of his death to bid farewell for his passage to heaven. Little Heaven prayed for the repose of the deceased to ensure that the last days of Mr. Choi, who desperately struggled with cancer on his own, would not have been lonely. Little Heaven shall continue to be a comforting companion for the admitted seniors during their last days of life. dail

How do you do? My name is Joyce from Uganda.

I live with my aunt because both of my parents passed away due to AIDS. My dream is to become a comedian who can make others feel good and laugh, because I would like to offer laughter to those living a tough life in a difficult environment. However, I have to give up my dream of becoming a comedian because I have to solve the problems of food for the day and of overdue tuition fees. Would the day in which I can freely dream about my future goals come even for me?

JT Chinae Savings Bank

JT Chinae Savings Bank visited Babfor for voluntary services. The staff of JT Chinae Savings Bank, who also donated funds for the daily meals being distributed, performed their respective duties as accurately as a calculator, perhaps because of their occupation in the financial sector. Given the characteristics of the banking industry, it would not have been easy to participate in voluntary services during the week. We sincerely thank the staff of JT Chinae Savings Bank who spared their precious time.

Saramin

Saramin, an employment portal site company, visited us for voluntary service. Saramin provides the services of connecting companies needing new staff with those seeking employment and is an important and essential company in Korea. In addition to their participation in voluntary services at Babfor, they even donated a fund for daily meal distribution. We sincerely convey our gratitude to the staff of Saramin who engaged in voluntary services with a joyous attitude without displaying the hardship of the arduous work involved. Saramin is the best!

Sungshin Girl's High School

Although we were concerned that they may be injured while performing kitchen duties since they are still young students, they managed to adapt to their respective duties wonderfully in no time! They even tidied up the kitchen, including not only cleaning the rice cooker but also the food waste. We hope you will have a joyous and safe school excursion that you are planning to Jeju Island. Please come back to see us again soon!

LITTLE HEAVEN

Science class team of Seokgwon High School

Mr. Yeo Min Seo, a teacher at Seokgwon High School visited Dail Little Heaven in 2016 along with the students in his class. After having forged a relationship with us, he has been regularly participating in voluntary services at our facility with his students every month. He then visited Dail Little Heaven again with new students in his class in 2017. It was wonderful to see that many students are attaining true learning due to a teacher who is realizing true education and this led us to new enlightenment as well. We cheer for the successful and beautiful journey in life of this wonderful teacher and his students, and we pray and hope that you will always be with Dail Little Heaven.

The "How Club" of Baehwa Women's University

A volunteer from Baehwa Women's University who sincerely participated in voluntary services activities every year has become the president of a club and participated in voluntary services at our institution by bringing freshmen from the university. We were so proud and felt the warmth of their hearts upon hearing that the club members gathered for the happiness of the seniors. As such, we were highly impressed with their attitude of fully concentrating throughout the training for new volunteers. The How Club members of Baehwa Women's University displayed a beautiful attitude in greeting every one of the seniors at the time of their return upon the completion of their services! We look forward to seeing you often in 2017.

RCY Club of University of Seoul

In the spring of 2017, the RCY Team of the University of Seoul visited Dail Little Heaven again with their freshmen. We were so impressed by the fact that the students who displayed the attitude of heart-felt service for others by participating in voluntary services every week in 2016 have become senior students at the university, and brought their junior students to our organization. We energetically cheer for the RCY Team of the University of Seoul who showed a wonderful scene of both junior and senior students united in providing voluntary services, and we hope that they will continue to offer heartfelt sharing and serving in 2017 as well!

VIETNAM

Women's Voluntary Service Group of Ho Chi Minh

The participants in the 'Women's Voluntary Service Group of Ho Chi Minh', established by the gathering of those wishing to participate in sharing and voluntary services, have outstanding passion. The Women's Voluntary Service Group of Ho Chi Minh conveyed their love and warmth by serving meals and making eye contact with each and every one, ranging from children to seniors having meals at Babfor. We look forward to seeing more extensive and wonderful activity from the Women's Voluntary Service Group of Ho Chi Minh in the future.

THANH CONG

The members of the E-Land Labor Union, who visit and share a wonderful meal at Babfor every year, visited Babfor this year again without fail. We pray that THANH CONG, that provides medical services to those suffering from diseases and food to those going hungry, will continue to become an even more wonderful company and achieve continued growth in Vietnam.

CHINA

Seongshimchadae of Hunchun City

Seongshimchadae, which is a gathering of approximately 70 taxi drivers in Hunchun City, visited China Dail Community for voluntary services. The members of Seongshimchadae who visited us on June 1 in commemoration of the Children's Day in China with umbrellas and an abundance of snacks and fruits promised to provide us with regularly scheduled support. Thank you so very much.

Kathmandu Korean Church

Members of the women’s association of the only Korean Church in Kathmandu visited us. After their voluntary services, they delivered a donation collected among the members and promised to join in further voluntary services in the near future. We sincerely convey our gratitude to the members of the women’s association of Kathmandu Korean Church and look forward to seeing you next time.

CAMBODIA

Chunghyeon Welfare Center (3/13,21)

More than 50 staff of Seoul Chunghyeon Welfare Center that operates facilities to assist intellectually disabled persons visited Cambodia Dail Community on 2 occasions to engage in voluntary services. The members of Chunghyeon Welfare Center, who are well-skilled and familiar with helping alienated neighbors as social workers, completed their respective duties in cooking, distributing and tidying up waste without any difficulties whatsoever. We were greatly impressed by their attitude of playing with the children who visited them during their resting time with smiles on their faces without any sign of discomfort. We sincerely thank the members of Chunghyeon Welfare Center who participated in voluntary service at our organization.

Nadolseom (Share, Care and Serve) Missionary Team (5/22)

Share, care and serve. Nadolseom Missionary Team visits and participates in voluntary services at Cambodia Dail Community more than 2 times every year. Seven members of the team, along with Pastor Cheon Sik Lee of Paju Church of Love, visited Siem Reap Dail Community and distributed relief aid they prepared to our children as well as cooked a warm meal. We convey our gratitude to all the members of the Missionary Team who have always been with our cause.

MJ Global Academy

More than 30 students visited Kamansi. We cleaned the entire village with students by picking up garbage and baked bread to be distributed to the village children. Moreover, the students excitedly danced and sang with the children. Lastly, the students of Global Academy who offered bread while kneeling in front of the children delivered the donation they collected. The MJ Global Academy team left after promising to visit and serve the children in Kamansi village every month. We convey our sincerest gratitude to MJ Global Academy who practices sharing and serving by remembering the poverty stricken neighbors wherever they are, although they are in an overseas country for their studies.

A couple: Mr. Eun Woo Nam and Mrs. Ji Hye Park

This couple visited Cebu to create a memory prior to childbirth. They visited Kamansi by sparing time in the middle of their hectic schedule in order to make the trip more meaningful. The couple shared stories with children by making eye contact with them and had a perpetual smile on their faces. The couple presented T-shirts they brought from Korea to the children. We sincerely thank them and pray that Chuktongyi (nickname for the fetus) will grow to be just like the parents.

Gratitude

Yeon Soo Kim, poet

Ah

Gratitude

When a firm

word tower is built up by piling

up and up the words

found in the dictionary, then what would be the last word to be put on the top of such a tower?

Gratitude is the word that is left after having asked and inquired and the window of spiritual enlightenment is opened ever so slightly.
